Ha, slow dance
Make a move slow dancing, come on

Did it start from the moment I met you?
Darkness ran away and you were there
As we took steps to each other
I'm trying to read you

Like the lights
The starlight turns on slowly in the sky
The password unlocks and opens this night

Take me high
The moment I followed you
Without knowing, my heart moved too
The movement resembled you
It's a secret only we know
As we place it in this night

Your step, my step (slowly with each other)
Can I make a move, follow me (carefully)
When the clouds cover the moon
We'll be slow dancing all night

What's your favorite color?
I want to turn into the color you want
I like it best when you smile
When the door opens, the flowers dance
They scatter wherever we go
When I'm walking with you
I smile
I'm happy even when it rains

Without a sound, I've fallen into your eyes
The password unlocks and opens my heart

Take me high, the moment I followed you
Without knowing, my heart moved too
The movement resembled you
It's a secret only we know
As we place it in this night

Your step, my step (slowly with each other)
Can I make a move, follow me (carefully)
When the clouds cover the moon
We'll be slow dancing all night

No word can express
Our conversations are so natural
It spreads like an unending signal

In the black universe
We have scattered (yes you and me)
I hesitated but I went to you
I couldn't figure out my heart
But you unlocked the password, you are the key

Take me high, the moment I followed you
(Whoo, whoo baby)
Without knowing, my heart moved too
The movement resembled you
It's a secret only we know
As we place it in this night

Your step, my step (slowly with each other)
Can I make a move, follow me (even if I don't say anything)
Feels familiar, feels natural
We are becoming one
