

Take Back

Odie Leigh

Baby, if I can even call you that
You know I'm struggling to remember
I mean I'm struggling to forget

Lately I've been so caught inside my head
I swear I haven't lived in weeks
Been daydreaming instead

I missed a call again
I miss my family, friends
I miss just waking up alone, not missing anything

And now he's gone again
Stuck on my phone again
Just waiting on someone who's not waiting on someone

I'd bet money his memory is hazed
It's not too out of character, we paved the path that way

I'm missing full night's sleep
I'm missing meals, no drinks
I miss believing words are said, words that are said to me

And not he's gone again
Stuck on my phone again
Just waiting on someone
I'm not waiting on no one

[illegible][illegible]

And while I hope that my picture's on his shelf when I get home
I don't want to see nobody else
I wanna hold me accountable for things I did myself
Don't wanna see nobody else

[illegible]

I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back some of my time
I'm gonna take back, take back
