

Gravedancer

Of Mice & Men

Slowly sinking headed for disaster
Filling our lungs while we're circling the drain

Over and over
Around and around we go

Standing at the precipice of calamity
Just one step from the edge

In the end it makes no difference
In the end it makes no difference

'Cause we're all
Hypnotized by the siren's call

Then the song begins to play
As we dance around the grave
As we dance around the grave

Slowly sinking headed for disaster
A sacrifice of self destruction

Around and around again
To celebrate the end

Then the song begins to play
As we dance around the grave
Knowing we will never change
We keep on dancing round the grave
Around and around the grave

Around and around and around again
To celebrate the end
I'll dance around this grave
Until it calls my name
