

Floating

Of Virtue

So I just keep floating while the flood gates open

Desperate to find myself
Its me against everybody else
I feel like I'm fading away from all I love
I'm barely holding on
To who I am and who I was
I feel like I'm losing
So everybody wins

So I just keep floating while the flood gates open
There's a hole in my soul, I'm feeling so low
I can't survive it all
So I just keep breathing, even when I start to fade away
There's a hole in my soul, I'm losing control
I'm not invincible
Can I just keep floating?

Desperate to find my place
But under the water, I'm erased
I feel like I'm sinking
With every single breath I take

So I just keep floating
'Til there's nothing left of me

So I just keep floating while the flood gates open
There's a hole in my soul, I'm feeling so low
I can't survive it all
So I just keep breathing, even when I start to fade away
There's a hole in my soul, I'm losing control
I'm not invincible
Can I just keep floating?

Breaking me down, breaking me down
Falling into the waves
(Into the waves)
Breaking me down, making me drown
I could just float away
(Float away)
Breaking me down, breaking me down
Falling into my grave
(To my grave)
Can I swim so I don't drown?
Can I learn to save myself?
Can I save myself?

So I just keep floating while the flood gates open
There's a hole in my soul, I'm feeling so low
I can't survive it all
So I just keep breathing, even when I start to fade away
There's a hole in my soul, I'm losing control
I'm not invincible
Can I just keep floating?
