

Locking Eyes

Off With Their Heads

Tell the truth or tell a lie
Say anything to justify all you
Have held inside all of your life
For fear of what would come if you follow through You've walked away a thousand times
I always wound up locking eyes on you
It's finally settles in this time
The feeling of knowing I lost you

Tell the truth or tell a lie
Say anything to nullify all you
Had promised you would rectify
And make good while you watch it all fall through
And I know it's all my fault
And I know I deserve it all

Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you

If there was a chance, if there was a time
If I didn't blink, if I didn't lie
You never changed, neither did I

Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you

Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
Yeah I lost you
