

Subject

Ohgr

A different subject satire undermines
A negative object interlaced and intertwined Indifferent suspects are interfacing into crime into a literal a debtor for the rest of my life

A lonely high, a lowly hate that went too far

In a withering hostage implicates into his crime
Here comes the Anti-Pope running around he smells like dope
As things light up incubate explosive rhyme into the literal a leper for the rest of my life

A lonely high, a lowly hate that went too far

Interfacing outer stellar objects collide insight all to force the art of hello objects collide insight filled up feels life under the rut of erasing hard lined nights alone

A different heart rate backwards on the line
Kevlar move to shoot the only witness that defines you
You define you
And I stood in a different light
Indifferent life the night we will die here
In a different light
No light
In different light desiring nothing higher
In a different light
No light
Indifferent life
No light
In a different light
A lonely high, a lowly hate that went too far
