

Everytime

Oi Va Voi

every time i see your face i know the love that lies and waits for me and every time i look at you your eyes they say the same thing back to me and every time i look above i see a light i k now there's something waiting for me every time you go away i lie beside a cold and empty space and every time i turn a page your hands begin to fall down from you r face and every time i look above i see a light i know there's something waiting for me every tear in your eye is a drop in my mind and i know that you love and i know that you love