

Doves Will Sing

Okean Elzy (Океан Ельзи)

Love, you know I hate this part
And before we even start
Did you feel anything?
Did you feel anything?
Novocaine and empty scars
Healing well a fabric heart
Do you feel anything?
Do you feel anything at all?

And did you ever notice
Curtains are all broken
All the words unspoken
Doves will sing it over again
Did you ever notice
The doors are halfway open
All the weight you're holding
Doves will sing it over again

Colour fades to shades of gray
Pictures melt and lose their grain
Do you see anything?
Do you see anything?
Circus rings and losing games
Loaded guns to feed the flames
Do you hear anything?
Do you hear anything at all?

And did you ever notice
Curtains are all broken
All the words unspoken
Doves will sing it over again
Did you ever notice
The doors are halfway open
All the weight you're holding
Doves will sing it over and over and over and over again

Love, you know I hate this part
And before we even start
Did you feel anything?
Do you feel anything?
