

Paint the Grass Green

Old Dominion

I don't know what's been going on inside that head of yours
But lately you've been looking out that window more
That gypsy soul inside of you is what I fell in love with
I wonder if it's coming back to haunt me and I'm so afraid that

Maybe there's a star somewhere in another sky
Those California colors are easy on the eyes
If you think the world looks better on that side of the fence
I'll paint the grass green like a Technicolor dream
If our love has faded, babe, I'll brighten up the scene
I'll paint the grass green

They say that if you love someone don't hold 'em back
But I can't quite convince myself I'm cool with that I'll change the way I kiss you or the way I take my coffee
However big or small, I'll fight for it all

Maybe there's a star somewhere in another sky
Those California colors are easy on the eyes
I'll get down on my knees if you're still up on the fence
I'll paint the grass green like a Technicolor dream
If our love has faded, babe, I'll brighten up the scene
I'll paint the grass green

I'll make the roses red
Give you a gold sunset
Tell me it's not over yet

Maybe there's a star somewhere in another sky
Those California colors are easy on the eyes
I'll get down on my knees if you're still up on the fence
I'll paint the grass green like a Technicolor dream
If our love has faded, babe, I'll brighten up the scene
I'll paint the grass green

If that's what you need
I'll paint the grass green
