

Obscure Divine Manifestation

Old Man's Child

So I dive into the universe, I fly among the stars
Creations of the worlds between our own and the obscure
Tangled in a world of light with darkness inside
The labyrinth of cosmos is not a path to life

Passing Saturn, closing on the moons of Jupiter
Europa shines in golden light, hiding it's secrets

Underneath the wall of ice evil rests alone
Waiting for the cosmic call to move the forces along

Europa's brother Io proudly standing tall
Innocent and beautiful his fate is in control
Jupiter is dark and grey, full of death and pain
The monolith has torn apart the beauty it once held

Alone I fly towards the centre, a black hole ahead
To join the others on his ride, which will never end
