

Forget It

Old Mervs

I'll leave the thoughts inside my head
I'll leave the car until it's dead
I wanna be someone that won't pretend
I called it, I got it right
Her stone keeps rolling and I'm always too tired
And always too wired to get it

Now, open up, I'm getting lost on us
And I'll give you a reason to forget it
Maybe give me a reason to regret it now

It's all you see, it's black and white
You were in the forefront of most of my lies, it's honest
I get by on being promised
She called it, she got it right
I'd leave a note, say I'm not falling
I'm trying to stall to rewind, to get it

But now, open up, I'm getting lost on us
And I'll give you a reason to forget it
Maybe give me a reason to regret it
Now, open up, I'm getting lost on us
And I'll give you a reason to forget it
Maybe give me a reason to regret

Feeling uptight
Give it another try
Couldn't get it right in another life
Well, maybe that's alright

Now, open up, I'm getting lost on us
And I'll give you a reason to regret it
Maybe give me a reason to forget it
