

Hey

Old Mervs

Time calls, that's the way it always goes
For you, I know, I don't like it and it shows
And I'll give it up, for a minute
I'll be someone that you won't mind
And I'm filling up, I'm just filling up
To ease my mind and feel alright

Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?
Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?

I'm sure, that I'm balking at the signs
It's not what you said or what you meant
You just caught me at the wrong time
And I'll give it up, for a minute
I'll be someone that you won't mind
Well, it's always the case that I lost my way
And it don't feel right

Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?
Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?
Maybe I'll be alright leaving here with you
Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?

Well, I've been spending all my free time
Wondering if you'd be mine, let me know
Well, you're distracting, I find it hard relaxing
Everybody's acting, I'm just going home to bed
Home to bed, home to bed
'Cause I'm leaving, 'cause I'm leaving

Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?
Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?
Maybe I'll be alright leaving here with you
Hey, do you mind me leaving here with you?

I'm leaving, I'm leaving, oh, I'm leaving
With you, with you, nah yeah, with you
