

Parched

Old Mervs

Little heartbreak, you won't be forgetting
Was your mistake for letting it happen

You say give it a go, now you're losing control
Well, it's all that you know, now it's all that you do
Get a reaction, all the attraction now, has it parched you?

Are you fading, are you fading, are you, oh?
Are you fading, are you fading, are you, oh?

Well, the guitar on the wall, the paint's losing its colour, do you ever regret?
Well, it's times like this I bet you wish you had
Someone more like you

Better hold tight
You won't be letting
It go tonight
Or are you forgetting?

You say give it a go, now you're losing control
Well, it's all that you know, now it's all that you do
Get a reaction all the attraction now, has it parched you?

Are you fading, are you fading, are you, oh?
Are you fading, are you fading, are you, oh?

Well, the guitar on the wall, the paint's losing its colour, do you ever regret?
Well, it's times like this I bet you wish you had

The hope is you get yourself through the rough
It's the way it goes when you've had enough
The hope is you get yourself through the rough
That's the way it goes when you've had enough
Time to think about it clearly
You're fine, were you too proud to admit it this time?

Are you fading, are you fading, are you through, oh?
Are you fading, are you fading, are you through, oh?

Well, the guitar on the wall, the paint's losing its colour, do you ever regret?
Well, it's times like this I bet you wish you had
Someone more like you

Someone more like you, oh
Someone more like you, no
Someone more like
Someone more like