

Rest Assured

Old Sea Brigade

It was a clear night in the Chicago
Hovering over the plains
Just wings in the wind
Long initial descent

Telling my heart to beat slow
Can almost hear you say my name
Before my feet touch the ground
I want to live in the now

Well I've fallen
Have I fallen alone?
Are you all in?
Just so I know?

Rest assured that I'm on your side
The rest is yours and you're all mine

Rest assured that I'm on your side
The rest is yours and you're all mine

How long have we got to remember?
I just want to keep living this life
Somedays in the hallway
Paint the walls with your blind faith

Well you've fallen
You're not fallen alone
Yeah I'm all in
Just so you know

Rest assured that I'm on your side
The rest is yours and you're all mine

Rest assured that I'm on your side
The rest is yours and you're all mine

Say something won't you
Tell me that you've made up your mind

Like a straightforward love song
Making everything feel right

Say something won't you
Tell me that you've made up your mind

Like a straightforward love song
Making everything feel right

Say something won't you
Tell me that you've made up your mind

Like a straightforward love song
Making everything feel right

Rest assured that I'm on your side
The rest is yours and you're all mine
