

Stayed Up Late

Old Sea Brigade

I remember when you laid it straight
In the remnants of the falling sky
Standing in a new waterway
You held my hand as you started to cry

I remember when you stayed up late
Now you fall asleep a quarter to nine
I remember when our dreams took shape
And I was standing right by your side

Am I letting you down
Or is there something you found

Not everything that bends will break
Test the strength through a hurricane
No blackbelt but I'll put up a fight
Not everything we had will die

I remember when we stayed up late
Now you fall asleep a quarter to nine
I remember when our dreams took shape
And I was standing right by your side

Am I letting you down
Or is there something you found
