

Cold War

Olive Klug

The cold war has begun
Of who can prove that they're having the most fun
Through tiny screens and Spotify streams
We're trying to prove to the other that we won

I've been staying up late
I've been rising at noon
I've been smoking way too much weed
I've been doing all the things you'd never do

I've been making new friends
With the old ones I'm making all of my amends
I search the bottom of my gut when I see shiny thing
For butterflies, but they all got broken wings
The butterflies have all got broken wings

Hope you had fun at your party
All our old friends were there
I look at pictures like they're pieces of a puzzle
Indicating you no longer really care
But I can't really blame you - all is fair

I see you've got a new friend
I'm lying here alone, just trying to comprehend
Oh, I search the bottom of my gut when I see shiny thing
For butterflies, but they all got broken wings
The butterflies have all got broken wings

The cold war has begun
And I'll be the first one
To break down and admit it baby
I'm not really having any
Having any fun
I'm not having any
Having any fun
I'm not having any
Having any fun
