

Lost Dog

Olive Klug

I've been noticing the way that my cheeks started pulling down on the rest of my face
I've been noticing the way that my body's moving slowly, lonely
, kinda out of place
I've been looking at houses on the internet
Then sleeping alone in somebody else's bed
I been filling the void with whatever kinda toy that'll help me forget

Time goes by
What's new
27 looks so much better on you
Lost dog gets
Less cute
Once he's been around the block a couple times
What the hell does he think he's gonna find

Don't you dare say I told you so
Cause nobody's ever gonna know what they don't wanna know
Chock it up to a Saturn return
Light a candle leave it on watch it all burn
Dramatic irony
Look who's jaded now, whose acting mean
I've gotta learn to keep my side of the street clean

Time goes by
What's new
27 looks so much better on you
Lost dog gets
Less cute
Once he's been around the block a couple times
What the hell does he think he's gonna find

And if you find me crawling over mountains
Don't call my name anymore
And if you catch me howling at a desert moon
Nobody's gonna give you a reward
I've gotta stop keeping score

Time goes by
What's new 27's just another year to get through
Lost dog keeps wandering round the block 'til he's going blind
What the hell does he think he's gonna find
