

From Ecclesiastes Chapter 9

Oliver Anthony

But anyone who is among the living has hope
Even a live dog is better off than a dead lion
For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing
They have no further reward, and even their name is forgotten
Their love, their hate, and their jealousy have long since vanished
Never again will they have a part in anything that happens under the sun
Moreover, no one knows when their hour will come
As fish are caught in cruel nets or birds taken in a snare
So people are trapped by evil times that fall unexpectedly on them
