Olivia Dean

I wanna talk but the football's on
Is holding hands too much to ask?
I know you can multitask
Is it me or the game that's wrong?
I know your hands, know your mouth
Miss your mind, I can't work out

And just when I think I've cracked you
You do a password change
Sometimes you're so familiar
Sometimes, so strange

I'm just tryna learn you
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
I guess I still got no clue
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
Oh, I can be a handful
That you so easily handle
So it kills me that I still don't know
What's going on

We go out, you're just on your phone
We don't have to stay so late
If you would just communicate
Oh, I don't wanna wake up
And see you with your shoes on
Heading out all quiet and cross
I guess somehow, I pissed you off

And just when I think I've cracked you
You do a password change
Sometimes you're so familiar
Sometimes, so strange

I'm just tryna learn you
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
I guess I still got no clue
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
Oh, I can be a handful
That you so easily handle
So it kills me that I still don't know
What's going on
What's going on
What's going on
I'm just tryna learn you
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
I guess I still got no clue
'Cause your love don't come with instructions
Oh, I can be a handful
That you so easily handle
So it kills me that I still don't know
What's going on

I wanna talk but the football's on
