

Everybody Knows

Olivia Holt

We've known each other almost our whole lives boy
Sometimes I call you only to hear your voice
My heart, it aches
Everytime that you're around
'Cause I can't say
All the things I feel deep down
And all our friends know exactly what it is
And they really want me to say

I am so into you
Give is a chance at this romance
And I wrote these words for you
I still pretend we're more than friends

Everybody knows but you
You-you-you
Everybody knows but you
You-you-you
Everybody knows but you
You-you-you
Everybody knows but
(Everybody knows but)
Everybody knows but
(Everybody knows but)
Everybody knows but you

I send you letters that I'm too shy to share
And I don't know why I'm scared
Couldn't see the truth didn't know if you cared
Do you even know I'm there?

I know they know
That I wanna be the one
That you call yours
Can we just fall in love
Could we? Should we?
Or will it tear us apart?
I just need to say what's in my heart

I am so into you
Give is a chance at this romance
And I wrote these words for you
I still pretend we're more than friends
Everybody knows but you

I dream about the day you turn around
And say I love you
And I tell you that I love you back
So now it's no longer true

That everybody knows but you
You-you-you
Everybody knows but you
You-you-you
Everybody knows but you
You-you-you (you, you)
Everybody knows but

(Everybody knows but)
Everybody knows but (but you)
(Everybody knows but)
(But you)
Everybody knows but you
