

I Let The Devil In

Olivia Lane

I let the devil in my house today
We sat on the couch, had a couple of drinks
Talked a lot about a lot of things
Like how misery loves company

I should've sent him home but I let him stay
I let him sleep right next to me
His subtle smile is so convincing
Giving into him is so easy

Oh, Lord save my soul
Where I'm weak only he and you know
Help me change my ways
Gimme strength to walk away when he's at my door
I pray I don't fall for him anymore
The lonely's creeping in
Oh, my faith is shaken

I let the devil in my house today
He said I'm hard to love, so I got angry
My emotions got the best of me
So I guess, I agree

Oh, Lord save my soul
Where I'm weak only he and you know
Help me change my ways
Gimme strength to walk away when he's at my door
I pray I don't fall for him anymore
The lonely's creeping in
Oh, my faith is shaken, oh

I let the devil in my house today
He stole my heart and watched it break
Only God knows where I'll find my strength
To let this be the last time I say
I let the devil in my house today
