

Let It Rain

Olivia Ong

Oh the sky grey
On this work day
You're just playing along
Just to see the day through
You're lonely and blue

Writings on the window
There's a deep longing sigh
You're far off in thoughts
Your heart's grown all cold
It would be fun if you could sing a song

Let it rain, rain
It's the perfect weather for contemplating
Let it rain, rain
For after such a weather
Sunshine will come

The rainbows
And the laughter
And the serious smile
It's teasing you pal
Like it's coming to get you

Oh they wish for you
To be happy again
But you're locked up inside
You're missing your cue

Feeling weary
Stop running away
You're finding it hard to breath
