Ollie

Hoping I don't get too attached cause I know you'll probably leave
I'm trying not too hold shit back, but it's harder than it seems
I promised you I'd try my best but its not like you don't believe
I'm sorry that I can't forget all things you said to me

I don't wanna get too attached, cause I know you'll probably leave
I'm trying not too hold shit back, but it's harder than it seems
I promised you I'd try my best but its like you don't believe
I'm sorry that I can't forget all things you said to me

The worst feeling in the world is knowing that I hurt you
I tried to call you on your phone I got no one turn too
When laying in my bed I swear I still can smell perfume
Makes me think back to the times wed break our parents curfew
2 am, shooting stars, the taste of your lips
Recline the seats in my car then grab your hips
You revived my aching heart then broke it bits
I guess that timing always hard when you falling as kids
I put this message in a bottle, hope you find it some day
Maybe ill wake up tomorrow to your beautiful face
Swear I think about you every-time I'm on this runway
Its okay if feelings leave, but mine always goin' stay

Now tears that I shed show the way I care
I'm fearing silence I just want you here

I don't wanna get too attached, cause I know you'll probably leave
I'm trying not too hold shit back, but it's harder than it seems
I promised you I'd try my best but its like you don't believe
I'm sorry that I can't forget all things you said to me

I can't forget the things you said to me
I'm sorry it's goin' take a while to fix my tendencies
A lot to learn so many flaws that dragging me down
I'm finding comfort as I write them into melodies
It hurts different when you the one who's actually trying
When our relationship depending on love I'm supplying
I guess the roles were once reversed an we both have been lying
I just hope that you come back before all of us dying
Done playing petty games you the one that I choose
Nothing ever be the same if I somehow lost you
Only thing that's on my brain hope you feel like I do
Everybody's got a chapter in their story confused

Now tears that I shed show the way I care
I'm fearing silence I just want you here

I don't wanna get too attached, cause I know you'll probably leave
I'm trying not too hold shit back, but it's harder than it seems
I promised you I'd try my best but its like you don't believe
I'm sorry that I can't forget all things you said to me
