Winter depression in need of affection, hold on to you
My soul has been weakened I'm full of aggression, not much more
to lose
It's sad but true, the weight keep pulling me under Can barely move, just lay here fading out

Question

Where do you run when everyone use you Missed call after missed call now the only thing that I'm used too
When fighting these battles is always a lose lose Feelings falling like snowflakes but you so alone they go thru you

An all this darkness match my heart, tears me apart, can't let it out
I tried wishing on a star think it's too far, wont hear me now

Winter depression in need of affection, hold on to you
My soul has been weakened I'm full of aggression, not much more
to lose
It's sad but true, the weight keep pulling me under
Can barely move, just lay here fading out

I got reasons, I've been bleeding no one knows Just keeps repeating, all these demons take a toll
