

Thankful

Ollie

Speed don't always mean you fast
It's a tax
Keep you running till you breathing in your last
Whatchu' want ain't whatchu' need
Like my cash
I got rich when I lost all that I had
I'm so thankful when I'm cold (cold)
For the lows (lows)
For the pain that I feel but never show
I'm so thankful for it all
I'm so thankful for it all
Yeah

Speed don't always mean you fast
It's a tax
Keep you running till you breathing in your last
Whatchu' want ain't whatchu' need (-whatchu need)

Yeah
I'm so thankful when I'm low that's how my life switch
Working double times and weekends on the night shift
I can't count how many times I almost gave up
But you gon' find out who you are when in a crisis
There's something I've come to know
That when you lose, you can still win
This direction is better slow, cause

Speed don't always mean you fast
It's a tax
Keep you running till you breathing in your last
Whatchu' want ain't whatchu' need (-whatchu need)
Like my cash
I got rich when I lost all that I had
I'm so thankful when I'm cold (-when I'm cold)
For the lows (-for the lows)

I'm so thankful for it all
Yeah
I'm so thankful for it all

Alright
Maybe it's the OCD
But what if I'm becoming too complacent chasing dopamine
Or what if every knife that's in my back is from people close to me
And maybe I don't know me, I just know who I'm supposed to be Look, me is all I hope to be
I've been on a search
No class has ever taught me what I've learned from being hurt
I've seen people that I love with all my heart inside a hearse

That's why the least of all my worries is if you don't like a verse
I've learned, the funny thing about being rich it's free
Everytime I hit a low is when I found new peaks
Now a days, the only accolade I seek is peace
Put in the work but never worked on me

Speed don't always mean you fast
It's a tax
Keep you running till you breathing in your last
Whatchu' want ain't whatchu' need (-whatchu need)
Like my cash
