Right Place Right Time

We got our eyes wide open and feeling like we are almost there. Words unspoken disappearing in the air And all I see is you and I YouDre the only lifeline that I need tonight IDm letting go.

So this is what it feels like Be in the right place the right time IDm bringing of a delight Hoping we can make this a long night This is why we came yeah I can feel it in my veins So this is what it feels like Right place the right time

Loud explosions only you and I can hear Doors fly open, youDre the cure for all my fears And all I see is you and I And youDre the only lifeline that I need tonight IDm letting go.

So this is what it feels like Be in the right place the right time IDm bringing of a delight Hoping we can make this a long night This is why we came yeah I can feel it in my veins So this is what it feels like Right place the right time with you Right place the right time with you Right place the right time

Right here and now feels like forever Never touch the ground when we are together Right here and now feels like forever, forever, forever, forever

So this is what it feels like Be in the right place the right time IOm hanging of a delight Hoping we can make this a long night. Right place the right time Right place the right time
