

It doesn't matter if you're black or white
Or the god that you choose to pray to
It doesn't matter about the clothes you wear
Or which creator made you
We all bleed the same blood
We all need the same love
And when we die there's no heaven above
It's Universal, It's Universal

It doesn't matter who you think you are
You're living and you know you feel it
It's not important as to why we're here
You know there is no reason

We all bleed the same blood
We all need the same love
And when we die there's no heaven above
It's Universal, It's Universal
It's Universal, It's Universal
We all bleed the same blood
We all need the same love
And when we die there's no heaven above
It's Universal, It's Universal
It's Universal, It's Universal
