

It's okay to fall
Once in our story
Come here and take my shoulder and take rest
We can slow down a bit
Even if it takes long hour
As much I hid them, and covered my eyes

Where the pain created me a scar
Its full of wound and scratch
I lost my way, I need a light house
Where the pain have leaved me a big scar
It will bloom a rose
Like we erased it all

Come take my shoulder
My heart will heal you
I will be lemon tree, come hide under my leaf
Once in our story, time may repeat again
Its okay come and take my shoulder, I'll be there

Where the pain created me a scar
Its full of wound and scratch
I lost my way, I need a light house
Where the pain have leaved me a big scar
It will bloom a rose
Like we erased it all

Come take my shoulder
My heart will heal you
I will be lemon tree, come hide under my leaf
Once in our story, time may repeat again
Its okay come and take my shoulder, I'll be there

Even it hurt me hard
Until you reaches my heart
I'll wait, so find me it
Hurt me hard, hurt so bad
But I will search your name still
Until you find me
