Omen

To the depths of my soul there's a calling
It's calling me, calling me home

So long ago and so very far away
In the land where titans reigned
The tales of old told still to this day
I now return to where I came

Hellas - I return
Hellas - to my home
My heart, my mind, my soul
They belong to Hellas

A million years since my first Battle Cry
Yet it seems like yester nigh
As blood of kings flows through my veins
My being yearns for Olympus skies

Hellas - I return
Hellas - to my home
My heart, my mind, my soul
They belong to Hellas

As I set sail across the Aegean Sea
Back to my home, my soul shall be set free
Where the Gods have blessed me

Hellas - I return
Hellas - to my home
My heart, my mind, my soul
They belong to Hellas
