OmenXIII

You looking for problems but can't seem to solve them
Making a difference whatever you call it
They stay on the top but you stuck at the bottom
How far have we fallen?
I eat and I sleep in repeat every day
Surviving's just part of the game
See I'm making moves while you making mistakes
Don't change the game, just change how you play
Claim that you sad, but you mediocre but I'm above average
You on the streets so hungry for that action
Only thing I'm hungry for satisfaction
The rest of these people are hungry for change
But show up to the table no spoon and no plate
You won't make a difference simply by just saying
You gotta get up or it will stay the same
