

Dark Light

OmenXIII

Up late with a blunt in my hand
Thinking back, things were different in the past
Used to scrape change, couldn't meet the demand
Now things changed, I need cash in advance
Want a bike just to ride by the sand
Every night, I just die in a trance
Come alive when I rise to the flash
Shut the blinds then the light disbands

Things change then they keep on changing
Life's great but it's still so painful
Life's pain but I'm still so grateful
Isolate myself from everybody hateful
Things change then they keep on changing
Life's great, but it's still so painful
Life's pain, but I'm still so grateful
Isolate myself from everybody hateful

Tryna get close but you are not able
Any chance you thought you had, just know it was a fable
I'm a demon but they say they see an angel
OmenXIII, King Of Demons, stay with a halo

To myself, I will always stay faithful
To myself, I will always stay faithful
To myself, I will always stay faithful
To myself, I will always stay faithful

Aye, you don't really know me so don't act you like you do
It's OmenXIII by my lonely, it ain't anything new
I would never thought I'd make to see this point of view
And now I'm watching everybody switch up their attitude
They could make a better change but they got lost to the truth
They been steady acting lame but that ain't anything new Acting like they know the game but see, they haven't a clue
Independent from a label, still I'm making these moves

Things change then they keep on changing
Life's great but it's still so painful
Life's pain but I'm still so grateful
Isolate myself from everybody hateful
Things change then they keep on changing
Life's great, but it's still so painful
Life's pain, but I'm still so grateful
Isolate myself from everybody hateful
