

Please Keep This Between Me & You

OmenXIII

They try to judge how we live, by the way we waste away
They try to see our intentions, by the way we make mistakes
Feeling numb, feeling great, I think I want to fade away
Smoking blunts in the rain, just 'cause it help me take the pain

I think I live for nothing
I want to die for something
I think I live for nothing
I want to die for something

People live, people die, that doesn't change our fragile minds
Loss is hard all the time, we keep that pain trapped deep inside

I cry alone, I cry alone, please keep this between me and you
"Die alone, die alone," that's what they told me I would do

I think I live for nothing
I want to die for something
I think I live for nothing
I want to die for something
