

Tonight

OmenXIII

When the sun goes down
I'ma be alone
I'ma do it on my own
Like I told you
You don't ever trust me
You don't even love me
So why would I be
Anything but me
I'm stuck inside of my mind
From time to time so I can't see why
I'd even ever want you by my side
Because you want to live and I just want to die
But you don't ever try to see me eye to eye
I know I'm out of line, just get me out your life
You can't say that I never tried
Because If I fail then we all die tonight

We won't die tonight, we won't die tonight
We won't die tonight, we won't die tonight

Put my body on the cross, just like St. Paul
That's upside down, if you didn't fucking know
I don't just fucking flow, I don't just make a song
I can speak to a soul, I can turn to a ghost
I learned from a witch, I don't need a fucking a bitch
I don't a need a diamond ring, I don't need a gold chain
All I need is this, just some space to create
Got two feet in the grave and I'm still getting paid
While you still worried 'bout the next thing, next wave
I do the same old shit, in and out, every day
I don't wanna change, I would rather die
Ain't nobody gonna tell me how to live my fucking life
'Cause I can see they aren't really happy in the end
I would rather be myself than ever have to pretend
I don't fuck with the people that don't want to understand
Bitch it's OmenXIII, the beginning and the end

We won't die tonight, we won't die tonight
We won't die tonight, we won't die tonight
