

Twisted Fate

OmenXIII

I am not afraid, lock me in the cage
Throw away the key, give me heathens, let me feast
When they see my face, I see them start to shake
I see they try to flee, but there is no escape
Only thirteen twists your fate
Take your pride, then crush your dreams
I can cut your veins, carve your soul out with my blade
I can give you love, or I can give you hate
I can give you hope, then I can take it all away

Violence is easy, the peace is most difficult
Lips are invincible, pour all left miserable
Minimal patience in till I get physical Swing my blade swiftly, with hits that are critical
My brain has been bleeding cause I just keep scratching
The questions keep coming without any answers
If everyone's free then what's that even worth
See the good life is worthless, but that's why it matters
See the good life is worthless, but that's why it matters
See the good life is worthless, but that's why it matters

I am not afraid, lock me in the cage
Throw away the key, give me heathens, let me feast
When they see my face, I see them start to shake
I see they try to flee, but there is no escape
Only thirteen twists your fate
Take your pride, then crush your dreams
I can cut your veins, carve your soul out with my blade
I can give you love, or I can give you hate
I can give you hope, then I can take it all away