

Never one to unite, walking in the moonlight Otherwise never outside, always 'bout mine, oh it's 'bout time
The clout come but I cannot coexist, with the kids that faking Talking this and that, I can't forget the fact That last year I was always overlooked Now they steady looking shook Prince Of The Shadows disappear then reappear in all directions
With your fate in my possession
And the blade fully extended to sever you from this dimension See it's hectic when The Omen get to flowing I could never lose my focus, my mind constantly in motion
It's a struggle and I know it, I don't really think it's hopeless It's the pain that I have chosen to cope with and keep it going Now they realize, can't nobody fucking stop me My options been multiplying while opposition dividing I'd conquer the competition, but I don't even see any obstacles I've been steady doing me and can't nobody ever stop me though, tell me yo

Tell me how does it feel to know you were dead wrong for doubting me
It ain't hard to believe, but believe that you'll never get the best of me
Bitch, it's OmenXIII, black shirt, black jeans till I rest in peace Know it's the Prince of the Shadows, King of the Demons, blessed inde ed

of me

Catch me riding 'round with that trunk shaking, head banging, neck br eaking
I'm a legend so fuck a label, grab my scythe then I'm life taking Got black nails with that butterfly blade, ain't a damn thang changed since 2015
Turned my life into rage since I jumped on the stage, now I live ever y day just to fight through the pain

I am the catastrophe the scene been needing drastically
I am the catastrophe the scene been needing drastically
I am the catastrophe the scene been needing drastically
I am the catastrophe the scene been needing drastical-ly

It ain't hard to believe, but believe that you'll never get the best
of me
