

Thunder

Omi

In your palm you caught my tear before it
Hits the ground and disappeared
Hold me in your arms so near because we Shared a love that's oh so dear
Meet me over the horizon in a-
Another place another time
Cause if there's a bye and bye then surely
This could never mean goodbye

Sad to see your light fade
It was glowing wonderful
I used to say I am not afraid
But I never understood
Until I watched you slip away
Can't believe you're gone for good
Trying to hold back the tears and the pain

Suddenly I heard the thunder
I heard the thunder
And it reminds me of the time we held each other
Tight and everything's alright and now I hear the
Thunder

At the table food was plenty but the Space you used to sit is empty
Thought I felt you touch me gently
That was just the lonely being friendly
Our conversations they still haunts me
The memories they keep me company
And even though the day is dawning
You're in heaven watching over me (yeah)

Sad to see your light fade
It was glowing wonderful
I used to say I am not afraid
But I never understood
Until I watched you slip away
Can't believe you're gone for good
Trying to hold back the tears and the pain

Suddenly I heard the thunder
I heard the thunder
And it reminds me of the time we held each other
Tight and everything's alright and now I hear the
Thunder
