

The Life I Remember

Once Human

See through the eyes of the dead ones walking
Experience the flesh and bone
The fabric of humanity is decomposing
Oh my God, I feel the ground is crumbling
Under my feet
Within the darkness fire is burning
Blood on the streets
But all I know
Is I gotta let go
Of the life I remember
Let go, let go, let go, let go!

I'll be your guardian angel
I will hold you till we fall
Held in the arms of a stranger
As we lose it all
Everything is burning, down, now
Everything is turning, black, now

Once human
Now bloodthirsty, mindless parasites
Cannibalistic maggots
Eat the corpse from inside
Oh my God, it was alive
We are at war with the world
But the world has won
How does it survive?
It digests us one by one
And starts again with none
It's done, it's done, it's done, it's done!

I'll be your guardian angel
I will hold you till we fall
Held in the arms of a stranger
As we lose it all
Everything is burning, down (down), now (now)
Everything is turning, black (black), now (now)

It's done
It's done, let go
Of the life I remember
It's done, let go, it's done, let go
Of the life I remember

I'll be your guardian angel (it's done)
I will hold you till we fall
Held in the arms of a stranger (let go)
As we lose it all
Everything is burning, down (down), now (now)
Everything is turning, black (black), now (now)
