

Heroes

One Desire

I'm looking for something
Something I can't name, I can't explain
This terrible heartache
Everytime that I bleed I hear your name
So give me a reason why I'd be sorry
Give me your reasons why I'd make the same mistakes again

Let me live, let me love
When the tears fall down and they hurt
When all of our heroes gone away
If I live, I will learn
I will get the sky in return
I will be a hero

When nothing is possible
When it's just a game we gotta play
It's nothing incurable
We just gotta hold our own defense

And we build up these bridges
Only to stand and watch them burn
Give me a reason why I'd be sorry
Give me your reasons why
You'd make the same mistake again

Let me live, let me love
When the tears fall down and they hurt
When all of our heroes gone away
If I live, I will learn
I will get the sky in return
I will be a hero

Oh, I was born in the rain
Oh, let me take you there
And when the darkness calls
Takes my breath away

Let me live, let me love
When the tears fall down and they hurt
When all of our heroes gone away
If I live, I will learn
I will get the sky in return
I will be a hero

Yeah I will be a hero

Oh, yeah
