

Lead To Gray

One Step Closer

What will it take to regain?
The truth you closed your eyes it remains the same
But once the feeling dies will you reach for me
I'll grasp to the sound of the voice that's embedded in me and hear the silence sing

To grow, to change, I want to wish it away
Suppress the love, the pain when a decision is made
Whats trapped inside this valley is left to die here
I can't accept this way this time I strain

To grow and change
Exchange the blame (exchange the blame)
When blue skies flea
They lead to grey

And now my time has slipped
I can feel it ripping apart from the seams
Then my world was flipped
Brought me back to face the ghost that I'll never see
Only shadows leave this life with me

With me
I tried to erase the past but it haunts me every day
Forgive me, I turned my back to every cry
Forgive me, forget me, whatever it takes to be aligned

Forgive me
When colors flea
And lead to grey
But I scream not only for you
But I dream not only for you
For me
To make this change
For me
