

Distant Strangers

ONEFOUR

You say too late to start
Got your heart in a headlock
I don't believe any of it
You say too late to start
With your heart in a headlock
You know you're better than this

Twistin' my words and bringing up the past, baby, you know that you better than that I don't got time to deal with the drama, I went to Chanel and I got you a bag
I promise that I woulda never got involved if I knew I would get so attached
I promise that I woulda never hit the road if I knew that you weren't coming back

Was it too much to ask for, you know that I had ya
You know that I woulda did anything
Anything that you asked for, you know that I had ya
I know that you knew I'd give everything (I'd give anything)

Aye

Stressin', quit stressin'
You should already know how I'm steppin'
Sayin' you want love for the essence
This time, I'll be the one to address it
No ABC's, but I got that D for your head, bitch move
Van Cleef for the necklace
Bring that boys to the trenches, so tell me, what's your preference? (Preference)
I'ma keep my cool if he stay composed
And when your boy gets home
I don't wanna hear no chat 'bout hoes, if you ain't got proof then leave it alone
I'm on the road tryna keep us afloat while you want space and a reason to grow
If things are best left kept on the low
Then I think you should leave that after the tone

Was it too much to ask for, you know that I had ya
You know that I woulda did anything
Anything that you asked for, you know that I had ya
I know that you knew I'd give everything (I'd give anything)

Aye

See, I would've done anything for you
Now you won't pick up when I call you (What?)
It was late night textin' 'til we're yawning
Nowadays I'm overthinking 'til the morning
Switched up and turned without a warning
Better let my heart forever bleed (LARO I)
Two distant strangers like magicians
Never knew them tricks were up your sleeve (Woo)

Aye

I'm sick of this back and forth
Stop, it's starting to get contagious
I had to put the bridges out you burned
What I felt inside would've been outrageous

Stop acting, pick up and leave, that shit catfish, poor performance
What's your number? Please don't contact
Buzz you up so I can call that a [?]
Yeah
Tell me love, where do you want it?
Yeah, tell me love, what do you need? (Uh-huh)
Fresh tip when you doin' your feet
New outfit when you fly overseas
Call a plumber, I made him leak
Been swimming 'cause I'm in the deep
Don't call me, you already know bitch
I'm on the road, and you for the streets (Gang)

Uh, you're gone and ain't shit the same
I guess were on different things
I guess now we're distant strangers (Uh)
You said there's no one to blame
But I was not the one to change
Guess I was not the one to save you
You were my everything
Now I regret everything
I wanted you here with me but you didn't want that
I'm doin' anything
I don't know who's bed you're in
I wanted you here with me but

It was too much to ask for, you know that I had ya
You know that I woulda did anything
Anything that you asked for, you know that I had ya
I know that you knew I'd give everything (I'd give anything)
