The eternal cycle around the sun, the wind, the clouds, the rain, and the sea
a
Between spring, summer, fall and winter,
All the greetings and the farewells have been the same
On those waves, we drift together

Different faces
Differently shaped hearts
Not lacking nor sufficient
They are beautiful as they are

Below the same sun,
Casting different shadows,
We are, we are

Yet to be called by any name,
There's a mind
The joys of an unhurried sunrise
Of a slow dawn
Things you can't hold in your hands
But still have
The good side of myself
That I definitely do know

The eternal cycle around the sun, the wind, the clouds, the rain, and the sea
Between spring, summer, fall and winter,
All the greetings and the farewells have been the same
On those waves, we drift together

Times when everyone seemed happy
And I was the only one struggling Times when I was happy
And others were lonely in the long night
Since we resemble each other,
We can embrace each other wordlessly,
We do, we do

Even though memories go away
Something remains
My childhood dreams
Of the emerald green world
Even without words
Something is written
Hearts that gave love
Without any special reason

The eternal cycle around the sun, the wind, the clouds, the rain, and the sea
Between spring, summer, fall and winter,
All the greetings and the farewells have been the same
On those waves, we drift together

The Sun, the wind, the clouds, and the sea
Round and round, time goes
Greetings, farewells, and again, you and me
This nameless eternity will never end
