

TRAUMA

ONEWE

I wanna soothe my heart
The day I fell right into the sea reach out your hand
Come now, and save
More and more getting worse now, got me wrapped in trauma

Under the water, one of you probably
Let's now be honest
And deep in the ocean, despairing, bearing
I'm all jumbled up now, I'm trapped in the aquarium

Take me back to my place
You're all over my mind, take me out before it's too late
Get out
I knew things will end up like this, got me wrapped in trauma
I know the end is near, but my heart's reaching out
Deeper and deeper into you like gravity
I can't control myself
But there is no way

Under the water, one of you probably
Let's now be honest
And deep in the ocean, despairing, bearing
I'm all jumbled up now, I'm trapped in the aquarium

The fishes turn their back up against
Even they are against, turning, turning on me
Aquarium
I can never escape from you
You make me fall in distorting

Feeling of being stung and skin being ripped out
Is there a reason? Look for parts in a person
Silhouette was that a pretty pearl, treasure
Was it a painful dagger, multi-personality?
Black and dark, all over filthy
And memories on the scars all over me
Who're you blaming? Why do you care?
You should keep it, stay
I'll just keep on doing what I want

Under the water, one of you probably
Let's now be honest
And deep in the ocean, despairing, bearing
I'm all jumbled up now, I'm trapped in the aquarium

The fishes turn their back up against
Even they are against, turning, turning on me
Aquarium
I can never escape from you
You make me fall in distorting

I can feel the dark silence
At the end of the foggy sea
A place where I cannot see from here
I feel like you will answer me from there
I have nothing else to lose anymore
It's enough I have lost you once before

I don't even have the strength to stand up
Don't ever let go, never, yeah

Aquarium

If it's not late, then let's turn back and back again
When you're about to fall, get back up and up again

Aquarium

I can never escape from you
You make me fall in distorting

I wanna soothe my heart

The day I fell right into the sea, reach out your hand

Come now, and save

More and more getting worse now, got me wrapped in trauma
