Keep running, tell me when you're exhausted
I'll share my breath with you, don't turn back
The darkness that feeds off your fear
Is chasing after us

If our gravity grows larger
The orbit can change
Break all theories beyond common sense
To a world of new dimensions
We'll make it there

What I promised I intend to keep
I will shine on your darkness

We're going to the new world (higher)
We're going to the new world (higher)
You and I our future
Trust your beating heart
There won't be any sad stories
Together we'll make it to the new world, fly high

A place no one has reached before
A place only you and I know
So we can remain how we want
To avoid unhappiness
We need to be happy so need to change everything

Do we have to be worse to win
This world is distorted
The meaning of love is fading too

When I got used to the piercing pain
I saw myself change
I was no different
From the people I hated
Infected with reality

That's when I met you, I finally woke up
I found the dream I lost

We're going to the new world (higher)
We're going to the new world (higher)
You and I our future
Trust your beating heart
There won't be any sad stories

Together we'll make it to the new world, fly high

We lock eyes and dance together
Singing a song that never existed in this world
What we desperately wanted, our hopes and dreams
Let's go to a place where they are in full bloom

Dive into new world
Oh!

I'll take you to new world now
Take you to paradise
Take you to new world now
I'll take you to new world now
Take you to paradise
Take you to new world now

Hey!
We're going to the new world (higher)
While we're still breathing
We will never collapse
From despair we find a new era
We're going to the new world (higher)
