We must, we must, we must love

I'm sure it'll be hard
To believe everything I say from now on
But ever since the day I met you
Strange things kept happening

Whenever I had sad thoughts
You kept sighing
When I walked next to you
My shoelaces kept getting untied

Did we lose our memories?
In our past or in our future or maybe a different world?
I don't know if something happened
But I do know one thing

You're gonna love me
I'm gonna become your everything
You'll know once a little time passes
You're gonna, you're gonna, yeah

Love me
We must, we must, we must love
You're gonna love me
We must, we must, we must love

It may seem like these monstrous realities keep growing
And will crash on top of you but
It's not a big deal, I'll be hiding behind you
I'm stronger when it comes to sadness

I can't explain with words
I'm just used to this feeling
We either already loved
Or have no choice but to fall in love now

Did we lose our memories?
In our past or in our future or maybe a different world?
I don't know if something happened
But this is real, you must

You're gonna love me
I'm gonna become your everything
You'll know once a little time passes
You're gonna, you're gonna, yeah

Feels like I took a long journey to a nameless planet
And found you
What reacted wasn't my head but my heart
I'm so glad I recognized you first
You need me

You're gonna love me
I'm gonna become your everything
You'll know once a little time passes
Believe me, believe you, I believe in you, yeah

Love me
We must, we must, we must love
You're gonna love me
We must, we must, we must love
