Once you go away
I don't know when I'll see you again
So let me hold you closer, let me cry a little
Please act like you didn't see, it's just this one time

Your existence pulls me so hard
I can't handle it
You and I are like a revolving orbit, why
Why I like you
It's so hard, this system through you

I go crazy, Monday to Sunday

You're so dangerous, I'm breaking down more and more
But why do I like you? Why?
The more I hold you
The deeper this gets
But why do I like you? Why?

Between sadness and joy, anger and hatred
I can't define the boundaries of these emotions
You're the one who taught me all of this
You're the center of my world

Why I like you, I don't know, I don't know
Why I'm keeping wanting you wanting you
I don't know why but because you're my everything
I'm acting like fool
I know this but as if I'm sick
I keep wanting you like a fool

You're so dangerous, I'm breaking down more and more
But why do I like you? Why?
The more I hold you
The deeper this gets
But why do I like you? Why?

What is this trembling symptom?
I'm breaking more and more
If this is love, it's alright, it's alright
It's weird, this doesn't feel strange, even the scars I got from you
I guess I have to hurt a little more

I have seven days, you decide the names of the days
I breathe through you, go live
I have seven days, you decide the names of the days
I breathe through you

Why why, do I like you, when I'm getting sadder and sadder
Why do I want you? Why you?
The more I hold you
The deeper this gets
But why do I like you? Why?
You're so dangerous
I'm breaking down more and more
