

Empires Fall

Onslaught

Death clouds overhead
Hammers crashing, bleeding red
Engaging violence on the sacred ground
Godhead lies in state, warring factions activate
A show of strength as the walls break down

Coalition of the blackened sun
Opposition with a smoking gun

Bloodlines, nations torn
Rebel forces charged for war
The social order yet to be unbound

A revolution in the extreme
Termination of a killing machine
One million people seize the day
To blow it all away

Empires fall into a world of chaos
Empires fall into a hate regime
Empires fall into a new renaissance
Empires fall when the pendulum swings

Fire storm, hell awaits
Fallen cities laid to waste
A rising terror crossed a deep divide
Masters to the end
Broken halos to defend
The devolution will not be denied

Liberation from the puppet chains
Annexation to the end of days

Black flags fly in hate
Border tensions escalate
A wave of riots under burning skies

Occupation on the streets
Orchestration of the anarchist dream
One million people seize the day
To blow it all away

Empires fall into a world of chaos
Empires fall into a hate regime
Empires fall into a new renaissance
Empires fall when the pendulum swings

Disorder, chaos and decay
Disorder, chaos, disarray
Disorder, chaos, resonate
Disorder, chaos, terminate

Revolution for the rabid masses
Revolution is an open vacancy
Revolution stripping all the assets
Revolution gonna blow them all away
Away

When the pendulum swings
When the death bell rings
One million people seize the day
To blow it all away

Empires fall into a world of chaos
Empires fall into a hate regime
Empires fall into a new renaissance
Empires fall when the pendulum swings
Revolution for the rabid masses
When the death bell rings
