Ah, ah, one two
Goddamn, one two
Alright, one two

They told me it was them and us
His enemies tried to hem him up
They shut it down like CNN+
They said to pray, said to lift Him up
They pulled the plug like CNN+
A boy in black versus men in blue
The cop is like, "Him, him, him, you"
His last life, out of continues
The earth said, "What you gettin' into?"
Don't play dumb, I'mma get in you
Can one love really split in two?
I need to leave, I need to wash my hands
I need to breathe, need to sit by you
I had this dream where I chipped my tooth
I tried to scream and my lips won't move
I passed out, a little disco nap
I woke up and it was 6:02

Unseen forces collide
We got too much supply
Everything's priced to go
No report gets denied

Everything's priced to go
Everything's priced to go

Super selective, inspectin' the ingredients
That was me in the produce aisle
My mother used to send me shoppin' for the groceries, now
One time I lied about potatoes, ooh, might never let me live it down
Super protective, deflectin' the unevenness
That was me on the road throughout
Another trip to different cities hoppin' over bounds
There ain't no borders, only rivers I done drove around
Super depressin', reflectin' on the deviants
That be me on the couch, gatherin' info
Tryin' hard to separate the facts from the tin foil
My super lesson: Don't burn bridges, leave 'em
That be me talkin' down my heightened feelin's
Not every action comes from a solid reason
My daily mantra: Don't get mad for it, just get even

No, what about my legs, Charlie Murphy?

"Noodle-Arm Whimsy", drinkin' whiskey as a courtesy
Topple over handlebars, my broken hands are dirty
I underline the outline of the spine and prep for surgery
Incision indecision only hurts me
In the event the main event's my uneventful worry
Promotion of the graduation gradually obscures me
I jump into a fadeaway like Wilt, a controversy
The Pirates of the Caribbean heard me
Sirens of the Slaughterhouse of Vonnegut unnerved me
Light & Magic Industry, the wizardry is worldly
Around the globe in 80 or my cut goes down to 30
Riding backwards on a horse that's never thirsty
Rather taste the rainbow, but the stars are always bursting
Ghetto peach rings are always good and worth the currency
But feet up on the couch deserve no mercy
