

woke up knowing everything (opening theme)

Open Mike Eagle

Dark comedy, television

I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
I fell asleep ignorant
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
I wasn't seeing what the pieces meant
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
Now, now, now, now God's unlimited, yeah
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up like, I woke up like

People looking for a larger plot
Awaiting fades in the barbershop
'Cause if your voice ain't as loud as his Maybe he knows where the power is
Maybe he knows why the rent is high
It's 'cause the moon is in Gemini
And Mercury's in the Gatorade
I'm just trying to get a taper fade
And lined up with a razor blade
And make some hay on the day to day
But old Steve said that he believes
It's chemtrails full of beta rays
Yeah, he showed us all videos
Of stonecutters wearing pretty robes
A white cross and a little rose
And all the Presidents is skull and bones
And I ain't never known one of those
And every pic of celebrities
Throw a hand sign or a funny pose
I mean they gotta know something, right?
I mean they gotta know something, right?
I mean they gotta
Sleep ignorant

I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, I was a stone-cold idiot
Woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
Yeah, yeah, now, now, now, now, now, now the God's unlimited
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up like, I woke up like, I woke up like

I had the whole United States wrong
This country stays what it's based on
These pagans escaped to make laws
Only having faith in a bank draw
And this whole shit's an experiment
When you only value inheritance
The only freedoms we project is disrespectful and arrogant
Roll the Bill of Rights in a pipe and use it on Nancy Kerrigan
'Cause Hogan said, "nigga," and he was a real American Heard what the song say, interpreted the wrong way
I know the Patriots on 30th and Broadway
To be a kid again instead of the dividend
Every Illusion ends when the state kills a citizen
They say we pagan now, I see what our religion's been

They be trying to act like we don't have a national religion

I didn't know last night, but I woke up this morning, now I know what it is Now it all makes sense
I fell asleep ignorant

I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
A stone-cold idiot
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
The God's unlimited
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up knowing everything
I woke up knowing everything, I woke up like, I woke up like, I woke up like

I saw the man broken, how he put his self together
I saw him, I saw him
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
I swear I saw him like just last week
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
I saw him yesterday, he ain't no shit
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
He ain't know shit yesterday
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
I saw him, he was dumb as rocks
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
Yesterday
Saw the man broken, how he put his self together
He was dumb as rocks yesterday
Saw the man broken
What the fuck?
How'd he do it?