

Chatter's Tale

Orange & Lemons

We met in a chatroom
I ask for your name, your age too soon
You ask for location
I gave you my phone and called me home

We met in a coffee room
You're wearing a tank-top that's so cool
The way that you flashed your smile
The look in your eyes, it blew my mind

Picked you up in a classroom
We went to a movie in a mall
I hooked up your shoulders and gave me a kiss
That did it all

We went to your bedroom
You took off your clothes
My heart went boom!
The passion we shared, was unbelievable
How many times we did it, I can't recall
