Orbit Culture

Pain you feel, the only sense that's real
The anxiety turning worlds surreal
You've faced the dark, you bear the demons mark
At the edge of insanity, we almost do fall

When you're finally back here
There's nothing to fear
Remember your heart and soul

When the violence feels real
It's only in your head
Remember, the dark will fade
With the rain falling down
You'll always find shelter
No matter how hard it falls

When the lights goes out
You should know that we trust you
You'll find your way

I can't feel any pain
I can't feel any pain
Pictures flashing around me
The wires dig deeper inside of me

I can't feel any pain
No I can't feel any pain
The flames are growing around me
The wires dig deeper inside of me
The circle closes

Face your hell before you're leaving, friend
The anxiety do not install your end
Fighting the shadow cause more harm than it helps
New ones appear and you're back once again

When you're finally back here
There's nothing to fear
Remember your heart and soul
When the violence feels real
It's only in your head
Remember, the dark will fade

The light will prevail

With the rain falling down
You'll always find shelter
No matter how hard it falls

When the lights goes out
You should know that we trust you
You'll find your way

I can't feel any pain
I can't feel any pain
Pictures flashing around me
The wires dig deeper inside of me

I can't feel any pain
No I can't feel any pain
The flames are growing around me
The wires dig deeper inside of me
The spiral closes

In due time when all the blood will appear
It's only happening inside yourself

The flames, I'll greet them welcome
With flames, I'll fight this world
The flames of pain and hunger
I'll break this circle now and forever
